

Device Listing

November 2012

A global list of commercially available devices in the healthcare sector, updated fortnightly

This lists global mobile health devices currently on the market, and is updated with new devices fortnightly. It tracks devices designed for the remote monitoring of a range of health metrics, such as blood pressure monitoring, glucose level monitoring, medication compliance monitoring and more. The list contains device categories and the type of connection the device uses to transmit the data it collects. The three connection types are embedded devices, which have their own mobile module; devices that connect to smart devices, such as mobile phones or tablets, via a cable or a short-range technology like Bluetooth; and gateway devices, which receive health data from other monitors via a short-range technology and analyse or transmit it onwards. You can also review whether the devices have certification from one of three major health regulatory bodies: the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the Continua Health Alliance or the European Economic Area's CE mark; and the vendor who manufactures the device.
