

Connected City

Education

Journey through the Connected Life

Education

Mobile innovation is rapidly transforming the traditional learning environment and tools, and shaping the future of education by changing how learning is being delivered, enhancing assessments and streamlining educational admin and management. Take the education journey through the GSMA Connected City and see how mobile is enabling students, teachers and learners to learn anytime, anywhere.